Eastern Suffolk BOCES, Western Suffolk BOCES, and Nassau BOCES, in collaboration with NYSCATE, extend an invitation to all administrators and teachers to join us at this year's event. This event will truly be a Metro Experience as the conference has been expanded to include Long Island, New York City, and the Lower Hudson Valley.

The summit theme, "Collaboration and Communication", will spotlight the use of technology to develop 21st Century learners, provide strategies for bringing new ideas to life, and support innovation and trends.

Highlights of the 2010 Technology Summit include the keynote presentation by Dr. Tony Wagner, generously donated by Scholastic. Dr. Tony Wagner will be speaking about improving skills needed to compete in the 21st Century. He has written about the seven basic skills needed for the 21st Century in his book The Global Achievement Gap. Dr. Tony Wagner founded the Change Leadership Group (CLG) as the Harvard Graduate School of Education Co-Director and has served as its co-director since 2000. An initiative of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, CLG helps teams to be effective change leaders in schools and districts. He also consults widely to schools, districts, and foundations around the country and internationally. His previous work experience includes twelve years as a high school teacher, K-8 principal, university professor in teacher education, and founding executive director of Educators for Social Responsibility.

Other highlights of the conference will include:

- Expert 21 and 21st Century learning
- Virtual Desktops
- Technology that Chronicles Lives!
- eduTechers Top Ten Webtools for your Classroom!
